As we say goodbye to the old building we begin our three months of freedom. How we choose to fill our slate of summer is up to us. Some choose to fill it with Johnston staples like hanging out at the tanks or getting ice cream at Vandeas. Others choose to spend it working in order to save up some money. We spend our nights at bonfires instead of working on an AP Lit essay and stressing about where to go to eat with friends instead of the Spanish 4 final. Cars full of students drove in the new parking lot to get a look at what we were getting ourselves into.
