NIFASHA ALINE (JEANETTE)

Q: What inspires you to do art? A: Since I was a little kid I was always drawing. I am a very creative person, I love to try out new things, plus my parents were artists so they would always teach me, train me.

Q: Does this piece tell a story?

A: My art doesn't really have any meaning to it, I just draw random things. Whatever pops up I just go with it. I don't just sit there and think "oh I'm going to do this," whatever comes to my mind I just go with it, I go with the flow.

VIKTORIA QUINN

Q: What inspires you to do art? A: I just have a lot going on in my head that I want to put into a visual so I can actually see it, and see how it really looks like because sometimes things look better in my head then they do on paper. So if I do that I'll know if it's a good visualization or not and how I can improve it.

BUILDING TOGETHER. One of the tasks during the Mega Fun Day scavenger hunt consisted of building Lego towers with oven mits on. (@PolarBear Crew)

KENNIDIE RUBY

Q: Do you want art to be your career path?

A: Definitely. I want to be an art therapist. I want to teach people how to put their feelings into art like I do.

Q: Does the piece have a background or tell a story? (Top right, THE EYE) A: It's like the person's soul is trapped inside them and they can't escape who they inside them and they can't escape who they are. They don't want to be who they are, but you can't exactly change who you are.

BAILEY BLEDSOE

Q: What would it feel like to be inside this piece? (Right, DESTINY) A: I would probably be really excited because that's one of my main goals cause I wanted to, since I can't develop video games I draw for it, put myself into it by art so I would be really excited.

"You might as well ask an artist to explain his art, or ask a poet to explain his poem. It defeats the purpose. The meaning is only clear through the search." -Rick Riordan

PYO AUNG

Q: What is going on in this piece and why did you choose these colors? (Bottom right, START)

A: In this piece, there is a women in the corner and she's covered in elaborate colors, which are used to represent that life is very colorful and beautiful. She's slowly using those colors to blow out the universe. Q: What inspires you to do art? A: What inspires me to do art is the

A: What inspires me to do art is the infinite possibilities that can be used at any place and at any time and it's a great way to express yourself.

DAY 119: SUPPORT TO THE END. Stands quickly become full at the home of the Ankeny Hawks for the second round of substate against the Johnston Dragons. The Polar Bears endure a tough loss to end the amazing season, 79-85.
