Phuoc "Steven" Phu

JUNIORS

Future med student, junior, Phuoc "Steven" Phu, has dreamed about being a doctor since a young age, but who knew this great opportunity would make him one step closer to his dream career? Phu got the opportunity to be a part of a program called Neuro-SMART through Central Campus while taking Microbiology class. It is a semester-long program, where qualifying high school students get the opportunity to participate in neuroscience research while earning college credit.

When asked about why he chose to take the program, Phu said, "I like neuroanatomy because it takes place in a medical school and is taught by a medical school professor. I chose to take it because I want a future career in medicine and I feel that getting my feet wet in a neuroanatomy class would further my knowledge and understanding of medicine. Phu also mentioned his favorite part about the program stating, "I like the aspect that neuroanatomy is challenging. There is a lot of information to learn for just one organ. The brain has many functions and it's a fun challenge to learn them all and try to retain everything."
